PROFILE

I am a passionate web engineer with over 2 years of experience in the field. My journey has led me to specialize in cutting-edge web technologies, and I take great pride in building scalable, performant, and user-centric web applications. I have a strong proficiency in working with Next.js, which I leverage to create server-side rendered and statically generated web pages, ensuring lightning-fast load times and SEO-friendly content. Alongside Next.js, I am well-versed in React, which is my go-to library for building interactive and stateful user interfaces with a focus on reusable components and efficient data management.

EXPERIENCE

Artificial Intelligence Researcher | AIA Academy

September 2021 - December 2022

I am a dedicated professional with a strong background in deep learning and data processing, as well as a proven track record in application development. My expertise lies in harnessing the power of machine learning algorithms to uncover insights and build predictive models that drive innovation and efficiency.

Information Engineer | National Taiwan Normal University

September 2022 - 2026

I am a graduate with a degree in Information Engineering, equipped with a foundational understanding of data structures, algorithms, and coding skills. My academic journey has provided me with the theoretical knowledge and practical experience necessary to tackle complex problems and develop efficient solutions.

Software Development | Side Project

- Virtual Agent Recognition | Tensorflow, Unity
- Ecommerce Website | NextJS, MER Stack
- Tod List app | HTML, CSS, JAVASCRIPT, FIGMA
